ABOUT

During war, it is wise to be skilled in the ways of your adversary. It is not uncommon that during war, material is captured and evaluated and even repurposed by opposing sides.

Spitfire LF Mk IX MK698 was serving with 412 Squadron RCAF when shot down by a Bf109E and crash landed near Wachendonk 5 December 1944. Pilot Officer CWH Glithevo survived and became a Prisoner of War.

Following its crash landing, the aircraft was repaired and used by the Zirkus Rosarius, a unit of the Luftwaffe that was tasked with evaluating and demonstrating captured Allied aircraft during WWII. This livery depicts the airframe whilst in service with this unit. This is as historically accurate as I can make it from a range of reference sources.

PILOTS NOTES

I have always loved the Spitfire, and vividly remember the sounds of 20 of them flying together at an air show at Duxford. One of the things that always fascinates me about the Spitfire, is that while we all know its importance in the Battle of Britain and the RAF, it was operated in every corner of the world by many nations, right into the 1950s!

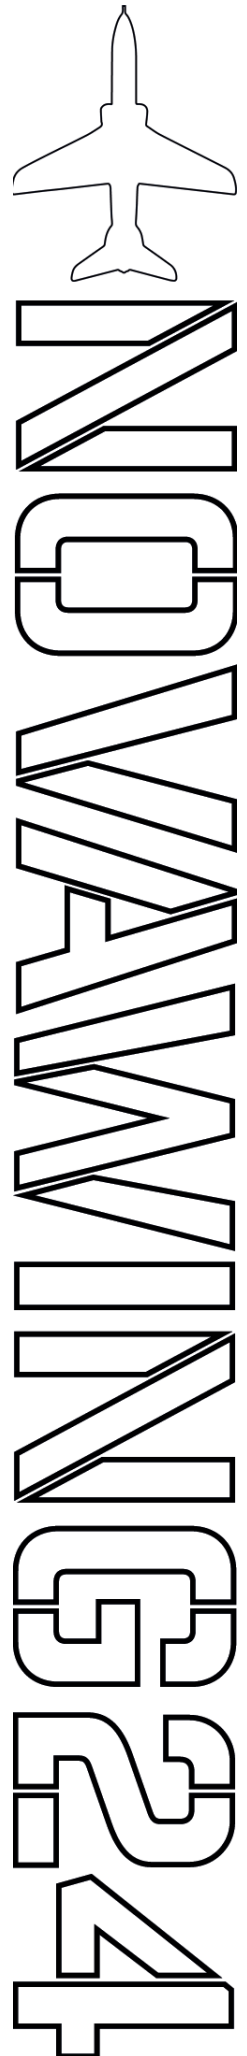

History is filled with many unique and interesting stories. I first read about captured airframes when reading about KG200 and their testing of various Allied airframes during WWII. It happened on all sides of that conflict and beyond, with USAF markings being worn by MiG's and RAF markings on Zero's. Some individuals might not like it, but it is history. This livery is not here to offend, but instead to educate and in a way help preserve some unique history.

Thank you for supporting my work and keep an eye out on my website and my Facebook page for any updates to this product and the future releases.

I hope you enjoy this aircraft and would love to see it in action! Join fellow aviators in our community Discord and share your thoughts and experiences there!

ABOUT THE ARTIST

I have been around aviation for longer than I care to remember. Whilst my own professional piloting dreams were crushed through medical restrictions, instead I have found ways to become active in the aviation world, both real and virtual. I currently work in the training space, providing training solutions and content to the Aviation and Defence sectors while simultaneously working with a range of high-quality developers across the home user market.

I first started experimenting with creating textures for HAWX following many years building plastic scale models. From very humble and basic beginnings, I have slowly grown my skills and content. I have created texture sets for all the major flight simulation platforms, as well as arcade style titles and professional training software for over a decade. My content can be found in virtual hangars all around the world as well as supplying content to professional training organizations and add-on developers.

As well as uploading freeware content, I have a range of content available for sale and I am available for commission work. My Commission status and rates are generally available in my Community Discord. Head over to my website, GumRoad store to check out my other work; or reach out and get in touch if you have a specific project in mind.

NOVA MINER 24

It is not the critic who counts; not the man who points out how the strong man stumbles, or where the doer of deeds could have done them better.

The credit belongs to the man who is actually in the arena, whose face is marred by dust and sweat and blood; who strives valiantly; who errs, who comes short again and again, because there is no effort without error and shortcoming; but who does actually strive to do the deeds; who knows great enthusiasms, the great devotions; who spends himself in a worthy cause; who at the best knows in the end the triumph of high achievement, and who at the worst, if he fails, at least fails while daring greatly, so that his place shall never be with those cold and timid souls who neither know victory nor defeat.

~ Theodore Roosevelt
