N24 CONCORDE

ABOUT

The Concorde is a true icon of aviation design. Humans desire to reach faster and further is truly captured within her design.

Whilst a civilian design, there were always plans for militarized versions (including a cruise missile carrier!). The most likely scenario for me had always been as a rapid / VIP transport. And what better unit to fly them than the Royal Air Force's 32 (The Royal) Squadron!

With the striking red tail and wings and the blue cheat-line, this colour scheme was worn by a number of aircraft operated by 32 Squadron on Royal duties from the 1980's through the early 2000's.

Along with this livery, I have also included a more sedate RAF Transport Command version based off of liveries worn by the Comet, VC10 and other aircraft in the fleet. I imagine this aircraft would have been seen carrying Ministers of the Crown to important international events or urgently needed troops to crisis locations around the world.

PILOT'S NOTES

This project has been a lot of fun to produce. Something I had in mind to do to my Airfix Concorde I have finally created digitally!

While I think this livery looks splendid, there are a couple of issues that are limitations of the model.

- Tail wheel area is solid blue on the 32 Sqn livery. This is due to the mapping of the tailwheel door overlapping the main fuselage. I have elected to block colour the entire area to hide the mesh issues.
- Cheat-line bump on the port tail cone of the Transport Command Livery. Again, a UV mapping issue. The UV map for the tail cone on the port side only, overlaps part of the fuselage.

If DC Designs updates the mesh in the future I will look at revisiting this and seeing if it can be corrected.

Thank you for supporting my work and keep an eye out on my website and my

ABOUT THE ARTIST

I have been around aviation for longer than I care to remember. Whilst my own professional piloting dreams were crushed through medical restrictions, instead I have found ways to become active in the aviation world, both real and virtual. I currently work in the training space, providing training solutions and content to the Aviation and Defence sectors while simultaneously working with a range of high-quality developers across the home user market.

I first started experimenting with creating textures for HAWX following many years building plastic scale models. From very humble and basic beginnings, I have slowly grown my skills and content. I have created texture sets for all the major flight simulation platforms, as well as arcade style titles and professional training software for over a decade. My content can be found in virtual hangars all around the world as well as supplying content to professional training organizations and add-on developers.

As well as uploading freeware content, I have a range of content available for sale and I am available for commission work. My Commission status and rates are generally available in my Community Discord. Head over to my website, GumRoad store to check out my other work; or reach out and get in touch if you have a specific project in mind.

NOVA MINIG 24

It is not the critic who counts; not the man who points out how the strong man stumbles, or where the doer of deeds could have done them better. The credit belongs to the man who is actually in the arena, whose face is marred by dust and sweat and blood; who strives valiantly; who errs, who comes short again and again, because there is no effort without error and shortcoming; but who does actually strive to do the deeds; who knows great enthusiasms, the great devotions; who spends himself in a worthy cause; who at the best knows in the end the triumph of high achievement, and who at the worst, if he fails, at least fails while daring greatly, so that his place shall never be with those cold and timid souls who neither know victory nor defeat.

~ Theodore Roosevelt
